Last Week's Rotarian of the Day

Our RoD was Joe Gaudet. I have no info on his introduction, but as he was also RoD just a couple of months ago I imagine his talk was brief.

Last Week's Program

Well gang, I'm afraid I don't have much to report this week.(See next article below.) I do know that the speaker was Nick Nail, that he was a visiting Rotarian, and that he spoke about the best ways to make use of all the information and resources available in our Rotary world.

And then of course there was the salmon breakfast, courtesy of Don Wasson and his recent trip to Alaska. Thank you Don for your warm generosity.

An Apology & Explanation

As you are probably aware, I live in Claremore, and being that far away I often do not attend Sunrise unless I have some other business in Tulsa that day. Knowing that when I was "hired" as your Editor, we also hired three Reporters, who help out in my absence. That system usually works great. (Thanks, crew!) But this last week, it turned out that all four of us missed the meeting, and I did not learn of that until too late to recruit someone else until afterwards. Unfortunately, that effort failed to produce any information from last week's meeting. Sooooo....pretty sketchy issue, and apologies to anyone who's announcement was missed.

Am I fired? Anyone wanna cancel their subscription? –Ed.

Another Great Day @ MSNI

Saturday morning, ten of us had a great time working at the warehouse, under the tutelage of VJ. Which means that by my count about 85% of you just flat missed out. What we lacked in numbers we made up for in box count. The packers and the shelvees fought furiously all morning trying to stay ahead of each other. I think the packers won – I’m still stiff two days later! Anyway, a hearty thanks to all who worked: VJ, Karen, Jim Blackburn, Randy, Kay, Joy, Bill Lawson, Reiger & son, and your truly.

If you are suffering any pangs of guilt for missing MSNI, you have a chance to atone by working at the Lindsey House any of the next several Saturdays. Let Community Service Director Mark Welty know if you’d like to help.

The Rat Race a/o 10/19

Ten for Joplin

Randy’s been telling us we’d have an opp to help Habitat for Humanity (through Aaron) build 10 houses in Joplin. Looking for 200 area Rotarians. Remaining dates are Oct 29, and again on Nov 8/9. Give Aaron a shout if interested.

Badaboomp Department

Son: “Dad, I got a part in the school play. I play the husband.

Dad: “Too bad they didn’t give you a speaking role!”

Why did God make man before woman?

You need a rough draft before you make the final copy.
